A very unusual but magnificent house, built to a high standard by the present owner's uncle. Originally valued in 2008 at €620,000 (and considered then to be a bargain). Empty for a number of years so will need decorating but nothing major! It is difficult to describe this house in just a few words. . There are 2 vehicle entrances, the first leads past the front entry door to the house, down past the garage and exits the property by a second gate. The front door enters directly into the lounge, which has a built-in log burner with ample storage for logs. The lounge is huge . . there...(Ask for More Details!)
